

Description

[100 Based Stopwatch]

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

[0001] For the purpose of computing the time differential between multiple sequential events, I hereby record the invention of a time accumulating stop watch based on 100, tenths and hundreds. The watch is to cumulate seconds, or minutes and tenths and hundreds of minutes, or hours and tenths and hundreds of hours as selected by the operator. The time can be paused and then restarted by the same action of current available stop watches. The accumulated time can be cleared to zero by the same action of current available stop watches.